THE JUBILEE OF THE BENEVOLENT INSTITUTION.

ANOTHER step was taken on Thursday towards completing the arrangements for the celebration of the Jubilee of the Benevolent Institution, the Hall Committee on that day unanimously deciding to recommend that the Festival shall be held in Covent Garden Theatre. This does not actually decide the matter, but it virtually does so, and we may expect that the general body of the Stewards, who really form the Executive Committee, will agree at their next meeting, on Monday, to adopt the recommendation of the Sub-Committee appointed to specially consider this point. We imagine the selection that has been made will meet with general approval, then and afterwards, and although it would, perhaps, be unwise to anticipate any considerable addition to the roll of Stewards as an outcome of the decision that may be arrived at, it is fair to look for a little enthusiasm when once definite arrangements can be announced, and it becomes known that the meeting will be arranged with a fair prospect of being an enjoyable one, and will present special features of interest which have not hitherto been attempted in connection with a Masonic gathering. For some time past the question as to where the Festival shall be held? has rested between Covent Garden Theatre and the Royal Albert Hall, very strong arguments having been prevalent in favour of the former; first and foremost in this respect being the feature of novelty, for whereas the Craft has on more than one occasion exercised the capabilities of the Royal Albert Hall, the resources of Covent Garden Theatre will now be put to the test, and, we venture to predict, will come out of the trial in a most satisfactory manner, especially as the Stewards of the Jubilee Festival will have the moral and practical support of the present lessee of the Theatre, Bro. Sir Augustus Harris, Past Grand Treasurer of England, and a warm supporter of the Charity on whose behalf the Craft is making such special efforts just now.

It was only a few days back, or to be precise, on the 13th of the present month, that we were able to congratulate the Secretary and Executive of the Benevolent Institution on the fact that 1000 Stewards had been enrolled for the Jubilee; now we are able to announce that the number had risen on Thursday to 1150, or an increase of more than ten per day (reckoning Sundays as well as week days). There is still 25 days to be accounted for ere the celebration comes upon us, the 24th of February having been appointed by the Chairman for the important gathering over which he will preside. Can the rate of increase of the past 25 days be maintained during the next 25? If so we should have a roll of Stewards nearly equalling that of the Royal Masonic Institution for Girls at the time the Prince of Wales presided at the Centenary Festival of that Charity, when 1464 brethren helped to secure contributions, amounting to £50,000. We are afraid the roll of Stewards of the Girls' School Centenary cannot possibly be equalled for the Jubilee of our youngest Institution, but sufficient has already been done to prove that the Craft is in earnest, and really means to make a special effort on behalf of the Old People. If there is not quite such a long array of supporters next month as was the case at the Girls' School Centenary, we may console ourselves with the consideration that the presidency of the Grand Master at the one meeting was sufficient in itself to account for the difference which is to be expected in the other, although in making this statement we intend no disrespect to the distinguished nobleman who has so kindly promised to preside. We imagine the Deputy Grand Master of England would readily admit that his presidency over the Festival can hardly have the same effect in arousing the enthusiasm of the Craft as would that of the Grand Master himself, who, alas, is just now so sorely tried as to do little more than give a passing thought to the affairs of the Brotherhood of which he is the beloved leader. Were the circumstances different, there is no knowing what help the Prince of Wales might have rendered to the Benevolent Institution, for the Prince is ever alive to the fact that his duty is to act as his followers may desire, and place himself at the head of all movements where his personal sympathy and action may have a beneficial effect, and do good. We can even imagine that the Jubilee Festival of the Benevolent Institution would have been attended by as distinguished an array of Royal Craftsmen as was the case at the Centenary of the Girls' School, had it been held in the midst of the marriage rejoicings which were anticipated, instead of amid the mournings and grief of the nation at the untimely death of one of its most promising leaders; but it was not to be, and we must now face events as we find them, and sincerely wish that the sympathies of the Craft may not only be continued towards our Royal leader, but also extended towards an Institution in which the Prince of Wales takes considerable interest, and which, we are convinced, he will be pleased to know also enjoys the support of his followers.

With 1150 brethren working in various parts of the country as Stewards for the coming Jubilee it seems almost impossible that any remarks of ours should fall upon ground which is not already being worked, but, on the other hand, it is certain—if we judge by comparisons—that 1150 does not represent a full rôle of Stewards, and in the hope that we may be able to do something towards securing one or more brethren to bridge the gap now existing between the total of the Benevolent Institution Jubilee and the Girls' School Centenary, we shall devote a little of our space to a record of what is being done by the Institution we are now endeavouring to benefit. On the principle that it is the hope of reward that sweetens labour, we may first point out that special privileges in the way of extra votes are offered to all who give practical support to the coming celebration. A subscriber of one guinea to the Jubilee Fund will be entitled to five votes, instead of the four usually awarded; while donors of five guineas will be entitled to three votes for life, instead of two, at each election, as is usually given. Similarly a Life Governorship (£10 10s) acquired in connection with this Jubilee carries with it 8 votes for life, instead of 4; a Vice-Presidentship (£52 10s) 80 instead of 20; and a Vice-Patronship (£105) 240 in place of the 60 usually allotted, these large increases being permanent for each election during the life time of the donor. Special advantages of a similar character are also offered to Ladies, Lewises, Lodges, Chapters, &c. in the hope of urging them to special effort for this occasion, and the Stewards themselves are not forgotten in the general desire of the Executive to reward all who work in support of this great event.

At the present time £15,140 is annually required to meet the annuities which are being paid from the two branches of the Fund—£40 a year each to 181 Brethren, £32 a year each to 230 Widows, and £20 a year each to 27 other Widows who receive half their late husband's annuity; while the working expenses, amounting to £2,700 a year, raises the total expenditure to £77,840, to provide which there is a permanent income of between £3,500 and £4,000 only, leaving an amount of about £14,000 to be raised by the Craft in order to continue the good work for one year on its present lines alone, without any idea of making extensions, even though the number of candidates is usually about five times as large as the number of vacancies available for them. Such details as this speak for themselves, and are in themselves sufficient to prove the necessity which exists for general and energetic action on this special occasion, when the Committee of Management hope not only to largely increase the permanent income of the Institution, but likewise to be in such a position as to considerably reduce the number of approved candidates, by the creation of new Annuities. That their fondest hopes may be realised, and that the Jubilee Festival of the Institution may eclipse any past effort of the English Craft on behalf of the Charities, is our fervent wish, and the wish also of the large number of Stewards and others who, by practical sympathy and support, are striving to make the Jubilee worthy of its place in the annals of English Freemasonry.

UNITED GRAND LODGE OF ENGLAND.

THE Especial Grand Lodge was held on Wednesday, at Freemasons' Hall, to consider and resolve upon addresses of condolence on the death of his Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, K.G., Provincial Grand Master of Berkshire, Past Grand Warden, and to arrange for their presentation. Grand Lodge, suitably draped for the occasion, was attended by over 500 brethren. The Right Hon. the Earl of Mount Edgcumbe Deputy Grand Master presided. Bro. Col. Le Gendre Nicholas Starkie Provincial Grand Master for East Lancashire, acted as Deputy Grand Master; Bro. Thomas F. Halsey, M.P., Provincial Grand Master for Hertfordshire, as Past Grand Master; with Bros. Sir Francis Beilby Alston, K.C.M.G., P.G.W., as S.G.W., and Admiral Sir E. Inglefield, K.C.B., as J.G.W.

Grand Lodge having been opened in due form, Brother Pendlebury, the Assistant Grand Secretary, read the notice convening the Special Grand Lodge.

Bro. Philbrick, Q.C., Grand Registrar, said: He regretted to have to state to Grand Lodge that he had that morning received a letter from the Most Worshipful the Pro Grand Master, stating that he was prevented by severe indisposition from being present on this mournful occasion.

Bro. Pendlebury next announced that letters had been received from Lord Henniker, Lord Valentia, the Earl of Limerick, Lord Dungarvan, and Bro. Powell, expressing their deep regret at not being able to attend the Special meeting of Grand Lodge, through sickness, and other causes.

Bro. Tyssen-Amberst P.G.W., and other Provincial Grand Officers and Grand Officers of the Grand Lodge of England had also written.

Bro. the Earl of Mount Edgcumbe then rose and said: Brethren, the occasion which has brought us here to-day is, perhaps, the saddest upon which the Grand Lodge of England has ever been assembled, not only within the memory of those here present, but at any period in its past history. From time to time we and our fathers have had cause to mourn the loss of brethren in high place in Masonry and in the affection of their brothers in the Craft; but in such cases we can recognise how all must learn that the departed brother had in a greater or a less degree accomplished his mission in this life before he was called away. To our finite vision it would seem that the brother whom we mourn to-day had only passed the probationary stage of life, which we fondly hoped was to have prepared him for a long career of public usefulness in his high station, and of unalloyed domestic happiness, when he was taken from his country, from his parents, from his betrothed bride, by the inscrutable decree of the Most High. We dare not question the wisdom and mercy of that decree. We know that the young Prince lived long enough to win the love of all who knew him, by his unselfish kindness, his affectionate disposition, and his sensitively conscientious character. Those qualities and the universal sympathy which his death has evoked throughout not only England, but the world, and especially throughout Her Majesty's wide dominions, cannot be without a far-reaching influence, which makes us feel that short as has been his life, untimely as his death must seem to us, he has not lived or died in vain. But it is to those in the bereaved home that our thoughts turn most sadly to-day. Brotherly love, however munificent in deeds, would be little worth if it could be severed from that instinctively human sympathy which can truly rejoice with those who rejoice and mourn with those who grieve. Three days before the telegraph announced to the world the fatal news, our thoughts had been only of rejoicing. We were rejoicing with our Queen in the prospect of an event which promised to add a new and cheery interest to the remainder of her life. We were rejoicing with our Grand Master, whose constant sympathy in the sorrows and the joys of others tends to, I believe, his receiving a cordial return from the people of England. And I need scarcely say to those in the ranks of the Craft over whom he rules, we were rejoicing with the gentle lady, the Princess of Wales, whose smile we have ever been wont to associate with all that is bright and happy. We were rejoicing to think, or we trusted, that a time of gladness was coming to her after the strained period of anxiety and care through which she had so recently passed. We had been thinking what we could best offer as a token of our congratulation to their beloved son and to his future bride, the fair young English princess upon whom his choice had fallen—a choice which had been received throughout the country with such general pleasure and joy. In three days from that time all was changed. We cannot now speak of the happiness that might have been without intensifying the pain of the present sorrow. We are not here to discuss it or to analyse that sorrow; it would be a profanation; we are not here to parade our sympathy in sensational language; we are here simply to record it as the only offering that we can make to those to whom we would give comfort if we could. I shall venture now to read to you the resolutions that have been drafted of addresses of sympathy both to the Queen and to His Royal Highness the Grand Master. His Lordship then read the addresses, which were adopted.

Bro. Le Gendre Nicholas Starkie Provincial Grand Master for East Lancashire seconded the motion. He said, the words of sympathy which have been uttered by the Most Worshipful Grand Master on the Throne must, I feel, be echoed in the hearts of all the assembled brethren who on this melancholy occasion come to testify their sympathy to those bereaved members of the Royal Family. As the Most Worshipful Grand Master said, it is no ordinary occasion; and I believe when we look upon this assembled multitude of Freemasons we look on a universal multitude outside not only of the English-speaking nations but of the Fraternity all over the world. There has been a sympathetic feeling extended in this calamity not only by the Colonies and Dependencies of this mighty Empire, but from all parts of the world. It seems as if the Creator had designed the ocean to convey the feeling all round the world that Nature should bring back to them their sympathetic feelings of sorrow. Brethren, it may be hoped that those kind expressions which have been embodied in those resolutions may be a solace in a certain degree to the Royal Family in the loss which it has pleased Providence to place on them; and if it is in our power on this occasion to extend the charity and benevolence of our kin to those who are so deeply afflicted, let us do so as far as we possibly can to alleviate their sorrow, and they will find by that Loyalty, Benevolence, Charity, and sympathy—with the great heads of the nation, are the principles that actuate the Masonic Order.

The motions were put and carried.

The Earl of Mount Edgumbe said he would undertake that the address be presented with the usual formalities. Grand Lodge was then closed.

MARK MASONRY.

GRAND MARK LODGE.

THE Special Grand Mark Lodge was held on Wednesday at Mark Masons' Hall. The Earl of Euston D.G.M. presided; he was supported by Bros. T. F. Halsey, M.P., Lord Cremorne, Sir Reginald Hanson, Bart., M.P., and others of the Mark Grand Officers. Bro. Col. A. B. Cook, by direction of the Acting Grand Master, read the notice calling the meeting. The Earl of Euston announced that he had had a communication from the Pro Grand Mark Master, the Marquis of Hertford, stating that he deeply regretted he was prevented by illness from attending. He was forbidden by the doctors to leave the house.

The Earl of Euston continuing said: Brethren, we are met here to-day to express our devotion, and to show the true spirit of Masonry towards those who are in trouble and distress—those whom we look up to in England—our Most Gracious Queen, His Royal Highness the Most Worshipful Grand Master, the Princess of Wales, and also one who was to have been the wife so shortly of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale. We are met here to express our feelings of condolence with them, and I am quite certain that any man in this assembly can well sympathise with the great grief which has stricken, not only His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales as a father, the Princess of Wales as a mother, and Her Most Gracious Majesty the Queen as a grandmother, who had been training up her grandson to follow in their footsteps, till the day came when it pleased the Grand Overseer of the Universe to take him to himself. We are met here to-day to sympathise with them, and I am sure no words of mine can fully express that condolence to her Majesty, to the Grand Master, and to the Princess of Wales. They all have our most heartfelt feelings of sympathy. Any one who knew the late Duke of Clarence and Avondale, and came across him since he was a boy, as I had many opportunities of doing, would know he was one of the most charming young men one could meet; one who was the soul of honour, and well fitted to occupy the position he was supposed to be destined for. All the facts in connection with this untimely death are too sad for us to dwell on. But as they are so tragic, and as so sad and heavy a blow has fallen not only on England, but on all the dominions where the British flag flies, and wherever the English language is spoken, we all desire to express our sympathy with the heartfelt grief of the Royal Family in the sudden and bitter calamity which has overtaken them. I propose that an address shall be presented to Her Majesty, to His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, and to Her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales, recording our hearty condolence and our great grief, and that we sympathise with them most deeply, and I trust that the Grand Overseer of the Universe will give them strength to bear their grief

In a future day they may look back upon the addresses not without pain, but without the deep sense of pain they now feel. I move that we present addresses to the Queen, to the Prince of Wales, and to the Princess of Wales, emphasising most deeply our sympathy in their sorrow and bereavement, and may God give them strength to get out of it well and safely, in due course of time.

Bro. T. F. Halsey seconded the motion; he did so with the very great sense of responsibility that fell upon him. At the same time, feeling the difficulty to express in adequate language the sentiments which animate the breast of every brother present, and every Mark Mason throughout the world, he felt there were occasions of sorrow when we can hardly adequately express that feeling. We feel most deeply the sorrow and the distress which our Royal Family and our Most Worshipful Grand Master, are suffering at this moment—a distress which is shared, I may say, by the whole country at large—a grief which falls in the first place upon them, and secondly upon the whole nation, in a manner in which we at any rate in our recollection have no remembrance of, and I trust no person will in future have. I am well aware that no words of ours can really bring comfort and consolation to our Most Worshipful Grand Master, our Queen, and the Royal Family in the loss from which they are suffering; but at least one may venture to hope, I think, that the universal expression of sympathy from all classes of the subjects of the Queen, and not the least from the body which I have now the honour to address, may afford them in the future as time passes on, some slight consolation and some feeling that their grief is shared by the whole nation. I cannot do better in concluding these few remarks than say we hope after this sorrow brighter days may dawn upon the Royal Family, that having sown in tears they may reap in joy, and go on their way rejoicing more and more,

The motion was put and unanimously agreed to.

CORNUBIAN LODGE, No. 87.

THE annual Festival for the installation of the Master was held on the 19th inst. Owing to the death of the Duke of Clarence the meeting was of a very quiet nature. A vote of condolence with H.R.H. the Prince of Wales and family being carried, the W.M.-elect Bro. Read was installed in a very impressive manner by the W.M. Bro. Rowe. The W.M. appointed as his Officers for the ensuing year Bros. Rowe I.P.M., Stevens S.W., Veal J.W., Boase M.O., Chirgwin S.O., Adams J.O., Osborn Treasurer, Taylor Secretary, Dunkin S.D., Couch J.D., Cornish Registrar, Whitworth Organist, Nicholls I.G., Baker P.M. Chaplain, and Bray Tyler.

The only prominent absentee from the Special Grand Lodge of Freemasons, held for the purpose of passing votes of condolence to the Queen and the Grand Master on the lamented death of the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, was the Earl of Lathom, who, as Pro Grand Master, would have taken the chair, but for sudden indisposition.

The William Preston Lodge of Instruction, No. 766, now holds its meetings at the Waterloo Arms, High-street, Marylebone, every Thursday evening, from eight to ten p.m. Brethren will receive a hearty welcome.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

IN the Articles of Union between the two Grand Lodges of Freemasons of England in 1813, it was agreed in the 6th Clause that "the Grand Incorporated Lodge shall then be opened, in due form, under the stile (sic) and title of the United Grand Lodge of Ancient Freemasons of England." These articles were signed at the Palace of Kensington on the 25th November 1813, by Augustus Frederick, G.M., on behalf of "the Grand Lodge of the Society of Freemasons under the Constitution of England," and by Edward, G.M., on behalf of "the Grand Lodge of Freemasons of England, according to the Old Institutions." The seal of each of the Grand Lodges was affixed on the 1st December 1813.

It is perhaps needless to remark that "Augustus Frederick" was H.R.H. the Duke of Sussex, and "Edward" was H.R.H. the Duke of Kent, father of Her Most Gracious Majesty, whom God preserve.

In the "Order of Proceedings of the Grand Assembly of Freemasons, on the Union of the two Grand Lodges on St. John's Day, 27th December 1813," we read—

"The Act of Union shall then be read by the Master of the Ceremonies.

"A Grand Chaplain shall proclaim aloud, after sound of trumpet—

"Hear ye—This is the act of Union, engrossed, in confirmation of Articles solemnly concluded between the two Grand Lodges of Free and Accepted Masons of England, and signed, sealed, and ratified by the two Grand Lodges respectively, by which they are to be hereafter and for ever known and acknowledged by the style and title of "the United Grand Lodge of Ancient Freemasons of England." How say you, Brothers Representatives of the two Fraternities? Do you accept of, ratify, and confirm the same?"

"To which the Assembly will answer—'We do accept, ratify, and confirm the same.' The Grand Chaplain shall then say—'And may the Great Architect of the Universe make the Union perpetual?' To which all the Assembly will say—'So mote it be.'

"The two Grand Masters will then affix the Great Seals of their respective Grand Lodges to the said Act of Union.

"The other Grand Chaplain, after sound of trumpet, shall then proclaim—'Be it known to all men, that the Act of Union between the two Grand Lodges of Free and Accepted Masons of England, is solemnly signed, sealed, ratified, and confirmed and the two Fraternities are one, to be from henceforth known and acknowledged by the style and title of "THE UNITED GRAND LODGE OF ANCIENT FREEMASONS OF ENGLAND;" and may the Great Architect of the Universe make their Union eternal.'

"And the Assembly will say 'Amen.'"

The first printed Proceedings of the United Grand Lodge are those of the 2nd March 1814, when the Minutes of the Grand Assembly of the 27th December 1813 were read and confirmed.

These printed Proceedings are headed "United Grand Lodge of Antient Free-Masons of England." It will be noted "Ancient" is here changed to "Antient" and "Freemasons" to "Free-Masons."

The 1814 title was continued for only about a year. The Proceedings of the 29th May 1815, 31st May 1815, 7th June 1815, 23rd August 1815, and 6th December 1815, do not give any specific title whatever to the United Grand Lodge. In those of the 31st May we read "The M.W. Grand Master stated, that he had convened this Special Grand Lodge, pursuant to the Resolution of the Special Grand Lodge, held on the 1st of February last, that the laws read at that Grand Lodge might again be brought before the Craft for their reconsideration; but, inasmuch as several alterations had been made to them by the Board of General Purposes, in consequence of suggestions from the Masters or Officers of Lodges who had perused them, His Royal Highness submitted that the better mode might be to have only those alterations and additions now read, to afford the brethren an opportunity of expressing their sentiments thereon, and that being approved, the Laws as this day agreed to should lay open for the inspection of the Craft for another month; after which His Royal Highness would convene another Special Grand Lodge, when the Laws, as now amended, should be submitted for confirmation." They were so confirmed on the 23rd August 1815.

It is possible an alteration in style and title was then discussed.

The first use by the United Grand Lodge of the word "accepted" was, I believe, in a circular signed by William H. White and Edw. Harper, Grand Secretaries, to Masters of Lodges, dated 8th January 1816, which commences—

"WORSHIPFUL MASTER,

The Most Worshipful His Royal Highness the Grand Master has directed us to make the following communication to you, for the information of the Brethren of your Lodge.

The happy re-union, in one Fraternity, of all the Free and Accepted Masons of England, so long and so ardently the wish of every heart, made it obvious that increased accommodation would be required for the Grand Lodge," &c., &c.

The Proceedings of the Quarterly Communication of 6th March 1816, have no distinctive title, but they contain a letter signed by John Soane, addressed—

"To His Royal Highness the M.W. Grand Master, and the United Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons of England."

The next use of the term "Free and Accepted" is in the title of the United Grand Lodge Proceedings of 24th April and 5th June 1816, which were printed together. This runs "United Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of England," which is, I believe, the only time, this particular title was used on Proceedings.

On the 4th September 1816, the title changed to "United Grand Lodge of Antient Free and Accepted Masons of England," and with the exception of two addresses to His Majesty King George the Fourth, in 1820; in which the "Antient" was dropped, this title was continued until the 25th April 1821, when "Antient" became "Ancient," and the title "United Grand Lodge of Ancient Free and Accepted Masons of England" has continued to be printed on Grand Lodge Proceedings until the present day. Is it correct? It certainly is not the title which was adopted at the Union.

Turning now to the Constitutions we are thrown into greater doubt.

The earliest Constitutions after the formation of the original Grand Lodge of England are dated 1723. In these the Institution is termed "THE RIGHT WORSHIPFUL FRATERNITY OF ACCEPTED FREE MASONS." In the 1738 issue, on the title, we read "ANCIENT AND HONOURABLE FRATERNITY OF FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS," but the actual Constitutions are headed — "RIGHT WORSHIPFUL FRATERNITY OF THE FREE AND ACCEPTED MASONS," and the General Regulations merely say that they apply to "Free and Accepted Masons."

The substitution of italics for capitals in certain words is the only alteration in the 1756, 1767 and 1769 Constitutions; but in the 1784 Constitutions the title runs "Antient Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons," the dedication is to the "Grand Master of the Antient and Honourable Society of Free and Accepted Masons," and the actual text of the Constitutions is headed "Constitutions of the Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons."

None of these give us a proper clue to the title of the Grand Lodge adopted at the Union.

We now turn to the records of the other Grand Lodge, of which the Duke of Kent was Grand Master in 1813.

Its first printed Constitutions are those of 1756, and the title merely refers to "The Institution of Freemasonry." In the body of the work, both as a heading to the "Old Charges" and to the "General Regulations," the simple term "Free and Accepted Masons" is used. The 1764 edition offers nothing for remark nor do other English editions of the last century, but in the 1800, 1801 and 1807 editions we find this second Grand body described as "The Most Ancient and Honourable Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons."

As early as 1751 the Irish Grand Lodge adopted the title used by the second English Body, in 1800, but it has long abandoned it, and describes itself now as "The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of Ireland."

The Official Calendars of the Grand Lodge of England up to 1813 refer to the "Grand Lodge of England" and to "The Society of Freemasons."

The current Freemasons' Calendar, officially published, refers only to "The United Grand Lodge of England," and it is only by inference it can be concluded the Grand Lodge in question is connected with Freemasonry.

The earliest Constitutions after the Union are those of 1815, by William Williams; in these our institution is termed, on the title page, "The Ancient Fraternity of Free and Accepted Masons," and in the body of the work, under "General Regulations," it is termed "The United Grand Lodge of Antient, Free and Accepted Masons of England"; this has been continued until now, and the only difference in the Certificates issued by the English Grand Lodge is that they spell "ancient" with a "c" instead of a "t." Why the title so solemnly adopted at the Union was departed from still requires explanation.

INVASION OF JURISDICTION.

ONE of the most essential and best among the many lessons to be drawn from the symbols of Masonry may be found in the teachings of the "trowel," an instrument to be used by Freemasons to spread the cement of brotherly love and affection; that cement which, when properly used, will unite all into one sacred band, or society of friends and brothers, among whom no contention should ever exist, save that noble contention, or rather emulation, of who can best work and best agree. This sentiment, "A band of brothers among whom no contention should ever exist," has been so often reiterated, and so firmly impressed upon our minds, that we have come to accept it as a truism, an undisputed fact.

It is beautiful as a theory, and should be a fact undoubted and unquestioned. It constitutes the Fraternity of Masonry, and upon it more than anything else depends the usefulness and stability of the Institution.

The Masonic use of the trowel has been taught every member of our Order, and its application has been impressed upon their minds by the most solemn ceremonies. There are, we know, exceptions to all rules, and, unfortunately, unworthy members may be found in every society, "black sheep in every flock." Yet we are convinced that among the Fraternity, as a whole, this idea is something more than an idle sentiment. It is a recognized fact, and made, to a greater or less extent, the rule of life. There is a tie which binds Freemasons most closely together. That tie is composed of brotherly love and affection. While individual members are cultivating this sentiment, and, as the years roll round, are more thoroughly applying the trowel and exemplifying the results of its use in daily life.

Yet we regret that too often when organized as a Lodge, which is but an integral portion, an individual branch of the one universal family, this cement is sometimes laid aside, and the use of the trowel, as between themselves and their neighbours, to a large extent forgotten. Mankind is by nature selfish. In the early ages of all the world's history, when the animal nature was in preponderance, following the natural law of evolution—"the survival of the fittest"—it was the strong against the weak. But with the advancement of civilization and the cultivation of the intellect, the moral nature of man came to the front. The common Brotherhood of man and his equality became more and more recognised and acted upon. To disseminate this truth and make it practical in every day life has been the chief mission of Masonry. Uniting as it does men of every country, sect, and opinion, it founds every regulation upon the one idea of brotherly love, and every where inculcates the broadest charity and toleration for the opinions as well as the failings of a brother.

This being the true principle of Masonry, that to which she requires a strict adherence on the part of all her followers, why should it not be made equally obligatory upon her Lodges and other organised associations in their relations each with the other?

The Lodge is but the aggregate of the individual, governed by the same ends, but united only for their better dissemination.

How often is this fact overlooked and forgotten. The records of every Grand Lodge, and our own is not an exception, will show that from this cause more or less trouble is continually arising among their constituents, causing ill-feeling, jealousies and unkindness between them, extending sometimes to personalities among the members.

The source of such dissensions may be traced almost invariably to that innate selfishness which in the individual we are striving to overcome, but which is allowed full scope in the Lodge, and where no one in particular is responsible.

Lodges in this jurisdiction are more and more becoming acquainted each with the other, and by means of occasional visitations and the mingling together in schools of instruction, the Officers and members are becoming more social. They can visit and work with and for each other. Eat, drink, and be merry together, but let one of them unintentionally and ignorantly, by the least fraction, invade the territorial jurisdiction of another, and how quick is the "Old Adam" in their natures aroused. Their pockets are touched, and, it may be, their dignity. The early lessons taught them as Masons are forgotten, and too often a spirit is manifested quite the opposite from that of brotherly love.

The question of jurisdiction is the most fruitful if not the chief source of all the troubles and dissensions thus arising. In the early days of English Masonry, when the Lodges were few in number and somewhat scattered, all seemed to have concurrent jurisdiction; arbitrary lines and boundaries were unknown, but in later years, and particularly in this country, with the large and rapidly increasing number of Lodges, jurisdictional lines have been found to be necessary, and that, too, for the sole purpose of better preserving harmony among the subordinates. Perhaps no better regulation could be adopted than our own—one-half the distance in a straight line to the nearest Lodge. Next to this and one which would avoid this trouble would be to make concurrent jurisdiction between all Lodges. Yet if all were governed by these Masonic principles, and in their intercourse and relation with each other were to exemplify that spirit of toleration, forbearance and courtesy which is expected from Masons individually, jurisdictional lines would probably be the best.

But when, at nearly every Annual Communication of the Grand Lodge, charges are preferred by one Lodge against another for an invasion of alleged rights in this respect, and when upon investigation it is found that a proper adjudication can only be had after a careful measurement made by a Committee appointed for that purpose, or by a certificate from a county surveyor, then we find an illustration of our proposition in regard to Lodges and their liability to ignore the teachings of our Order. At such times we are led to believe that the doing away with all dividing lines, the making concurrent jurisdiction of the entire State, would be the better and only way to preserve harmony.

It is a common saying that there are exceptions to all rules, yet Masonry, in her laws and regulations, is an exception from this. The laws of Masonry, based upon the landmarks, are absolute, and its regulations must be general, and while there can be but one rule in regard to jurisdictional limitations, the privilege is given to constituent Lodges to make local arrangements providing between themselves for concurrent jurisdiction or even for arbitrary lines. Were a true Masonic and fraternal spirit to actuate all Masons this could be easily accomplished, and that same spirit would avoid most of these differences by mutual concession on the part of all. While general concurrent jurisdiction may not be practical or for the best good of the Fraternity generally, yet there are many cases where it might be applied and be for the best interest of all concerned. Lodges are sometimes located at a distance of from five to thirty miles, and even more, from another. Persons residing considerably nearer the one, yet by reason of routes of travel and from other causes are best known in the other, and practically the most convenient for them, yet are denied the privilege of becoming Masons by this want of courtesy and strict adherence to their so-called rights. We would make all such territory—that is all beyond a certain limit—concurrent, allowing the applicant to consult his own convenience in the choice of location. In the absence of such a regulation, we earnestly advise the inculcation of the genuine principles of Masonry—charity and brotherly love.—Masonic Tidings.

Grand Chaplain) he had acted in summoning the brethren together to pay the last sad office of respect to such a worthy and distinguished brother. The resolution found a ready response, and Bro. Cookson, in a few brief but well-chosen words, replied, expressing his gratification at such good results. The Lodge was then closed in due form and with solemn prayer.

The brethren and visitors were then provided with tea, and great credit was due to Mrs. Robertson, the hostess, for the comfortable repast provided, at only a few hours' notice.

The Lodge room was draped in crape, and the brethren wore crape rosettes upon their regalia. There was a very large attendance of members of the Craft. The Provincial Grand Master (Bro. Sir Hedworth Williamson, Bart., of Whitburn) presided over the Lodge, and in the absence, through illness, of the Deputy Prov. G.M. (Bro. the Rev. Canon Tristram), Bro. The Provincial Grand Lodge having been opened in due form.

Bro. Sir Hedworth Williamson expressed his sadness at the circumstances under which they were met. He referred with satisfaction to the large attendance, notwithstanding that so many brethren were suffering from illness. They all deeply regretted the absence of Canon Tristram. He then proceeded to move that an address of condolence be passed, and be signed on behalf of the Provincial Grand Lodge. Sir Hedworth, who spoke under feelings of deep emotion, then moved the following address:

To His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, K.G., Most Worshipful Grand Master of England, &c.

SIR,—We, the undersigned, by request and on behalf of the Free and Accepted Masons of the Province of Durham, in Grand Lodge duly assembled, humbly approach your Royal Highness, requesting you to receive from us the assurance of our deepest sympathy with your Royal Highness, her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales, and all the other members of your Royal Family, in the great affliction which you are at present suffering. In his Royal Highness the Duke of Clarence and Avondale, you, Sir, and your august family mourn the loss of an affectionate member, the country a beloved Prince, and the Masons of England a true and worthy brother. That it may please the Great Architect of the Universe to preserve, strengthen, and support you and yours in this your great affliction, is the sincerest prayer of your Royal Highness's most loyal and devoted servants, the Freemasons of the Province of Durham.

Given under our hand this 21st day of January 1892.

H. B. TRISTRAM D. Prov. G.M.
R. HUDSON Prov. Grand Secretary.

Bro. the Rev. H. Kynaston P.P.G.S.W. seconded the resolution in appropriate terms, and it was then carried in silence.

The Provincial Grand Master having again expressed his satisfaction at the good attendance, hoped it would be a long time before they were called together again on such a sad occasion.

The Provincial Grand Lodge was then closed in due form.

THE installation banquet was held on the 13th inst., at the Royal Hotel, Devonport, and was largely attended. This is the only Lodge in the Province which invites ladies to their annual banquets, and is in consequence one of the largest and most popular Lodges in the district. The W.M. Bro. Harris presided, and there was a large attendance. A récherché banquet was supplied and capitably served up under the direction of Mr. Waters, the head waiter, while the genial manageress, Mrs. Greatorex, was deservedly complimented on the admirable arrangements for the banquet and ball. The usual Loyal and Masonic toasts were duly honoured. The W.M. proposed the Grand Lodge of England, the P.G. Lodge of Devonshire, and the P.G. Lodge of Cornwall. Bro. E. Aitken-Davies responded for Devonshire, Bros. Heath and Bersey for Cornwall. The S.W. Brother Penberthy proposed in appropriate terms the W.M., who neatly responded. The W.M. gave the I.P.M. and P.M.'s of the Lodge. Bro. Burt the I.P.M. in reply said he felt proud to be able to say that at the close of his year of office they had a balance in hand of £80—and he did not think any Lodge in the Province had such a large balance at their command. Bros. Maddock and J. R. H. Harris also replied. The latter said he was pleased to see Bro. Harris in the chair, because he was one of his initiates, and had proved himself a worthy Mason. It was exactly twelve years ago that night that they first invited ladies to their banquets, and although some predicted it would be a failure, he asked them to look around at that great assembly. The toast of the Treasurer Bro. Littleton P.M. P.G.S., and the Secretary Bro. Cawsey P.M. P.P.G.J.D. was most heartily drunk, the W.M. speaking in most complimentary terms of the admirable way in which they carried out their respective duties. The toast of the Senior and Junior Wardens, and Assistant Officers followed. Bro. Pitcher gave the Visitors, to which Bro. Pearn responded for Cornwall, and Bro. Whitfeld for Devonshire. Brother Maddock proposed Masons' Wives and Sweethearts, and Brothers Orchard and Littleton acknowledged the same. The banqueting room was then closed for dancing, which was continued up to two a.m. Bro. Penberthy made a most courteous and efficient M.C. Mr. Brock supplied the music. During the dancing a capital concert was given in the room adjoining, under the direction of Bro. Pitcher P.M. P.P.G. Pursuivant.

ON Tuesday, the 19th inst., the ceremony of installing the Worshipful Master of this Ancient Lodge took place at the Masonic Hall, Reading. In consequence of the death of the Duke of Clarence, Provincial Grand Master of Berkshire, the brethren appeared in mourning, and the usual banquet was dispensed with. Bro. Millar, who had been elected W.M. at the previous meeting of the Lodge, was duly installed. The ceremony was most accurately performed by Bro. Tirbutt, the outgoing W.M. Bros. Wheeler jun., Dodd, Martin, and Mount also took part in the proceedings. The W.M. afterwards invested his Officers, as follow:—Bros. Tirbutt I.P.M., the Rev. Canon Garry S.W., Galt J.W., the Rev. J. THE installation and banquet was held at the Masonic Hall, on the 12th inst. The Lodge was opened at four o'clock, when the ceremony of the initiation of Mr. Martyn, solicitor, was ably performed by Bro. Downing. This was followed by the installation of Bro. Cater W.M. for the ensuing year. The ceremony was impressively gone through by Bro. Parsons P.M. The Officers were invested, as follows: Bros. Downing I.P.M., Shepherd S.W., Hawken J.W., C. Parsons P.M. Treasurer, B. Parsons P.M. Secretary, Ross P.M. Chap., Marshall Org., Wevill S.D., Trimmer J.D., Davies D.C., Body I.G., Metherell and Martyn Stewards, and Burt Tyler. Bro. Andrew P.M. was unanimously elected to the office of Steward for the Benevolent Institution. The attendance was small, owing to the large amount of sickness prevalent in the neighbourhood. Amongst the members present were Bros. Archer P.M., Kittow P.M., Vicary and Shearm. The visitors included Bros. Phillips P.M. Bombay, India, and Madden S.W. 2188 Kuralla, India. The brethren adjourned to the dining hall, where an excellent banquet was provided by Bro. and Mrs. Burt, who are to be congratulated on the admirable manner in which it was served. A very tasteful menu and toast list was got up by Bro. Cater W.M., which contained a photo of himself, under which the following words were printed:—"With fraternal greeting and hearty good wishes." Songs were given by the W.M., Bros. Archer, Downing, and Martyn, which greatly added to the success of the evening.

Cawthorn's, Anchor Inn, where the annual festival was held.

Dir. of Cers., Lambert I.G., P.M.'s Andrew, Mottershead, Hindy and Nettleton; Coombs, Lenard, Markland, Anderson, Hall, Higginbotham, Thompson, Bailey, Gregson, Wood, Hair, Schofield, Pittman, McGuckin and Bass; Visitors Hebden P.M. 1453 P.G. The Lodge was opened in due form, and after the minutes of the previous meeting had been read and confirmed, Mr. J. G. Coombs was balloted for, and elected to become a member of the Lodge. He was subsequently initiated into Freemasonry by Bro. Past Master Andrew. Bro. Waterton, being a candidate for passing, was interrogated as to his proficiency in the first degree, and having answered, withdrew. The Lodge was then raised to the second degree and Bro. Waterton was passed to the degree of Fellow Craft by the W.M. Bro. Wood being ready, was raised to the sublime degree of a M.M. by the W.M. There being no further ceremonies to perform the Lodge was lowered to the first degree. A hearty and sincere vote of condolence to Bro. H.R.H. the Prince of Wales, on the death of his son Bro. H.R.H. the Duke of Clarence, was passed, and a letter ordered to be sent to the M.W. G.M. to that effect. There being no further business, hearty good wishes were expressed by the visiting brethren, and the Lodge was closed in peace and harmony. At the social board the health of the Initiate, passed and raised brethren, were proposed and heartily drunk, each brother responding for the honour.

LODGE OF ISRAEL, No. 205.

THE above Lodge met in strength at the Cannon-street Hotel London, on the 26th inst., to celebrate its ninety-ninth anniversary, and for the purpose of honouring the installation of its new Master (Bro. Maurice Bash). A still larger number of members and visiting brethren would have been present but for the prevailing indisposition, and the letters and telegrams of apology for absence were more than we have hitherto heard read in a private Lodge. These were received with much regret, and many expressions of sympathy for the unwilling absentees. The Lodge was opened by the W.M. (Bro. W. S. Dancyger); Bros. M. Bash S.W., J. Levy J.W., A. M. Cohen P.M. Treasurer, C. F. Hogard P.M. P.G.S.B. Secretary, J. M. Gluckstein S.D., B. Marcus J.D., J. Dancyger I.G.; and there were present P.M.'s H. M. Harris, M. I. Emmanuel, P. Harris, S. Jacobs, L. Norden, E. H. Norden, A. J. Henochsberg and W. Littaur; with Bros. G. Scherman, J. Mendoz, Infield, J. Berbyn, P. H. Griespan, G. Saling, J. Da Silva, J. R. Smith, G. Friedlander, H. Shally, S. Lyons, E. W. Hayes, G. Lichtenfeld, M. Gluckstein, J. L. Van Gelder, T. Roalky, S. Samson, D. Grunberg, J. Stern, I. Cohen, A. M. Goodrich, M. W. Friedlander, J. G. Blank, H. Levy, with other members. Amongst the numerous visitors were Bros. F. Binckes P.G.S.B., James Terry P.G.S.B. Secretary Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution, A. Cohen W.M. 188, M. J. de Leeuw W.M. 2265, J. H. Ler P.M. 1196, James Stevens P.M. 1216, 1426, &c., A. E. Bishop W.M. 1319, M. J. Jessop P.M. 1261, E. Wolff, W. Wright P.P.G. Organist Middlesex W.M. 1897, S. Moses 511, C. Stickling 511, S. J. Roco Chap. 188, J. Cowling 619, A. Duckett, 1347, P. D. Isaacs 185, J. Yonge 81, B. Weigel 188, J. Barnett 2192, W. W. Lee 238, L. L. Blomfield W.M. 185; and others. Before any regular business was proceeded with the W.M. (Bro. Samuel Dancyger), in well chosen and appropriate sentences, introduced the sad subject now engrossing the minds of all loyal Freemasons (and who amongst them is not loyal?), the recent loss to the Craft and the nation by the death of the R.W. Brother H.R.H. the Duke of Clarence and Avondale. On his proposition it was resolved, with silent and respectful unanimity, that votes of condolence and sympathy should be forwarded to the Most Worshipful Grand Master and the members of His Royal Family. The minutes of the previous regular Lodge meeting, and those of a Lodge of Emergency, held on the 5th inst., were confirmed, as were also the minutes of the Audit Committee, the balance-sheet showing improvement on the financial results of the past year, a considerable increase in the admirable Benevolent Fund provided by the Lodge for the immediate and material relief of such of its necessitous members as, on occasion, may require assistance. The Senior Warden, Bro. Maurice Bash W.M. elect, was then presented for installation and placed in the chair of K.S., according to ancient custom. The beautiful and impressive ceremony was performed by the Installing Master Bro. C. Dancyger, the retiring W.M., in the most perfect manner, the oratory and elocution displayed by him in the several addresses to the newly Installed Master, his Wardens, Officers, and Brethren, calling forth highly deserved encomiums from the many visitors present. The Board of Installed Masters numbered twenty-one. Bro. Dancyger on the completion of his fugal duty as the outgoing Master was presented with a handsome Past Master's jewel in testimony of his valuable services, and acknowledged its receipt in a few brief and sincerely expressed terms of thankful appreciation. The Officers appointed for the ensuing year, and invested by the newly installed W.M. were:—Bros. J. Levy S.W., J. H. Gluckstein J.W., A. M. Cohen P.M. Treasurer, C. F. Hogard P.M. P.G.S.B. Secretary, B. Marcus S.D., J. Dancyger J.D., H. M. Harris P.M. D.C., John Berlyn I.G., J. N. Smith Assist. D.C., J. Rosalky and G. Lichtenfeld Stewards, and Reinhardt Tyler. Bro. C. F. Hogard, as Secretary, read a communication from the Secretary of the Royal Masonic Benevolent Institution in relation to the forthcoming Festival, and stated his willingness to act as Steward to represent the Lodge on that occasion. The sum of ten guineas was voted to be placed on his list. This was supplemented later in the evening by numerous individual donations. A candidate for initiation having been proposed, and hearty good wishes expressed by the several visitors, the Lodge was closed in due form. The banquet was held in the Pillar Hall, and was served in the customary efficient style associated with the Cannon Street Hotel Company, and the well known liberality of the Israel Lodge. The menu left nothing to be desired by even the most exacting epicure, and the personal superintendence of Bro. Woods, the manager, ensured the satisfaction of the large company in every respect. After the cloth had been cleared, and grace had been said in Hebrew and English, the W.M. proposed the toast of the Queen and the Craft, acknowledging an amount of responsibility in approaching his discharge of that duty at a time when so much sorrow surrounded Her Most Gracious Majesty and her family, through the untimely death of one who had been but recently a distinguished and highly respected chief in Craft Masonry, H.R.H. the Duke of Clarence and Avondale. The tokens of mourning in the Lodge itself, and those now worn by each individual brother, were but feeble outward evidences of the inward grief of all true Craftsmen, in which their sympathy with the Royal House sought expression. The sad event had filled the hearts of all classes of society with sorrow, and not least among them, the members of the Israel Lodge. The toast was duly honoured. Expressions of a similar nature accompanied the proposition of the toasts of the M.W. Grand Master, the Pro Grand Master, and the Deputy Grand Master and the Grand Officers Present and Past. In response to the latter toast, Bro. Terry P.G.S.B., and C. F. Hogard P.G. Standard Bearer acknowledged the compliment paid by the W.M., Bro. Terry especially thanking him for the manner of its introduction, and referring to the forthcoming Festival, at which the B.W. Deputy Grand Master the Earl of Mount Edgcumbe would preside, at his first public Masonic function since his appointment. Bro. S. Dancyger I.P.M. proposed the health of the Worshipful Master in very laudatory terms as to the work he had already performed, and predicted that he would give the Lodge every satisfaction during his year of office, and reflect credit on the Craft by the discharge of his duties in the chair of K.S. The W.M. briefly responded, and assured the brethren that his utmost power should be exerted to verify the prediction of Bro. Dancyger, and trusted that his conduct during the ensuing year would leave nothing to be regretted by his brethren. For the toast of the Masonic Charities and the Lodge of Israel Benevolent Fund, Bros. Terry and A. M. Cohen were called upon to respond. Bro. Terry, speaking in reference to the first portion of the combined toast, expressed his thanks for the vote passed in the earlier part of the evening, and hoped that the generous offer of the Secretary, Bro. Hogard, to represent the Lodge at the Centenary Festival now forthcoming would stimulate the members to further individual efforts to secure him a list of donations worthy of so important a Lodge as that he had now the pleasure to address. He was glad to think that there were prospects that additional annuities would likely follow a large amount of subscriptions to the Institution. He might be pardoned if he incidentally mentioned that at the next election there are two widows of brethren of the Lodge seeking admission to the benefits of the Institution, and that such fact should have consideration. With a highly complimentary reference to the admirable private Benevolent Fund of the Lodge, which quietly and unostentatiously performed deeds of charity of no mean importance, Bro. Terry concluded an excellent speech in the words of the preacher, "Cast thy bread upon the waters, for thou shalt find it after many days." Bro. Cohen confined his remarks principally to the last portion of the toast, and as President of the Lodge Benevolent Fund gave some interesting details. Whilst admitting the policy of recognising the old adage, "Charity begins at home," in so far as it justified the maintenance of their own particular relief fund, he was nevertheless pleased to observe that the generous gifts of the brethren to the several Masonic Charities proved that it did not altogether stay there, and that whilst their own members or their widows requiring assistance have at all times been well relieved, there had never been any indisposition to contribute to the Charities outside their Lodge in fair proportion to other Lodges in the Craft. A hearty welcome was then accorded to the Visitors, for whom Bros. L. L. Blomfield W.M. Joppa Lodge, M. J. Jessop P.M. 1261, and James Stevens P.M. 1216 1426, &c., were called upon to reply. These brethren were unanimous in according to their hosts, as well for themselves as for the large body of guests, expressions of satisfaction with their reception throughout the evening, and particularly in regard to the exceptionally able rendering of the installation ceremony by Bro. Dancyger. In every respect a more agreeable Masonic evening had not come within their experience, and they could but hope for other opportunities of enjoying association with so excellent a Lodge. The remaining toasts were the Installing Master and the other Past Masters, the Treasurer and Secretary, the other Officers of the Lodge, and the Tyler's toast, but for these, in consequence of the lateness of the hour, we were unable to stay. It was a heavy evening's business, and somewhat too long protracted, but nevertheless highly enjoyable. There was a well arranged programme of music, under the direction of Bro. W. Wright Prov. G. Org. Middlesex, and special mention should be made of the talented assistance rendered by Mrs. Littaur, Miss Frances Littaur, Miss Emanuel (recitations), Messrs. H. H. Heap and Harcourt Thorpe, with Bro. I. Cohen.

Arensbergh seconded the proposition, which was carried unanimously, after which the Lodge was closed. At the social board all the toasts were drunk in silence, the singing, &c., being entirely dispensed with. ## NORMAN LODGE, No. 1334.

THE members assembled at the Masonic Hall, Old Elvet, Durham, on Wednesday, the 20th inst., for the purpose of installing Bro. S. Wilkinson S.W. as Worshipful Master for the ensuing year. There was a good muster of the Craft. The Installing Master was Bro. Lionel Booth P.P.G.S.W., who performed the ceremony very efficiently. The W.M. then appointed and invested his Officers, as follow:—Bros. White S.W., Westrope J.W., Leonard Secretary, Gray Treasurer, Neiderhausen S.D., Lukins J.D., Seyburn I.G., Bowden and Roots Stewards, and Grabham Tyler. After the Lodge had been closed in due form the members of the Craft adjourned to the Royal County Hotel, where a most sumptuous banquet was served up. The complimentary toasts were duly honoured, the proceedings being enlivened by Bros. Walker, Leatham, the W.M., and other musical brethren.

COLERIDGE LODGE, No. 1750.

THE installation of Bro. Major-General Montagu as Worshipful Master of this Lodge took place at the last ordinary meeting, in the Lodge room of the Public Hall, Cleverdon. The ceremony was ably performed by the Worshipful Brother Else P.G.D. After the installation, the W.M. invested his Officers, as follow:—Bros. Rose I.P.M., Wickenden S.W., Hayman J.W., Rev. A. R. Cartwright Chaplain, Barnes Treasurer, Jupp P.M. Secretary, Sawyer S.D., Charles J.D., Somerton Organist, Hunt I.G., Amos and Ewings Stewards, Stevens Tyler. Owing to the death of H.R.H. the Duke of Clarence the annual banquet was postponed.

ANCHOR LODGE, No. 1839.

THE members held their installation and banquet in the Masonic Hall, at Northallerton, on Tuesday, the 12th inst., when Brother Ward was installed W.M. of the Lodge for the ensuing year. There was a capital muster of members, while Visitors were present from Middlesbrough, Darlington, Stockton, Thirsk, Durham, and other Lodges. The ceremony of installation was most impressively performed by Bro. Walton P.M. P.P.G.S.B. of North-East Yorkshire, after which Bro. Ward invested the following Officers for the ensuing year:—Bros. Bell I.P.M., Tweedy S.W., Naylor J.W., Walmsley P.M. P.P.G.S. Treasurer, Robinson P.M. P.P.G.D.C. Secretary, Charlton S.D., May J.D., Waistell I.G., Stead Dir. of Cers., Boddy Organist, Palliser P.M. P.P.G.S. of Works, Henrioi and Brodrick Stewards, Wilkinson Tyler. The annual banquet was held at Bro. Henrioi's Railway Hotel.

As Freemasons and loyal subjects every member of the Craft must mourn the loss of His Royal Highness Prince Albert Victor, Duke of Clarence and Avondale. In his Royal Family circle the loss, we are assured, has caused prostration and sincere grief. To the nation the death is regarded as a great calamity, and in Masonic circles the regret and sorrow are of the keenest and truest kind. H.R.H. was not only a Prince of great promise, but was equally promising as a Freemason. The Fraternity in Scotland were proposing to mark its appreciation of his merits as a member of the Craft in his proposed marriage with Princess Victoria Mary of Teck, which was fixed to take place on 27th February, but instead of the expected rejoicing we are humbled in sackcloth and ashes by the sad intelligence of the Prince's death. On Friday, the 8th of this month, he engaged in a quiet family celebration in honour of his 28th birthday. On the following Monday it was made public that he was seriously ill, and three days later he succumbed to a complication of influenza and pneumonia. The circumstances of our Royal brother's death and all that it involves have been told and retold in public print. In every assembly of Masons since last Thursday the loss has been referred to. I have been present at several of these, and have been deeply impressed with the sincere feelings of regret and sorrow which have been manifested—no hollow sentiment, but deep rooted and heartfelt sorrow.—Glasgow Evening News.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT.—Vicissitudes of climate, exposure and hardships, tell heavily on soldiers and sailors, sowing the seeds of diseases which may ultimately break up the constitution. Naturally careless of their health a word in season may avert many evils, and may cause them to resort to timely measures without any difficulty or publicity. Holloway's effectual remedies are so suitable, and are so easily adapted for the varied complaints to which our soldiers and sailors are liable, that a supply should always be obtained before proceeding abroad. It may with confidence be stated that many a valuable life might have been saved, or confirmed cripple prevented from begging in the streets, if Holloway's remedies had been used in time.

DIARY FOR THE WEEK.

We shall be obliged if the Secretaries of the various Lodges throughout the Kingdom will favour us with a list of their Days of Meetings, &c., as we have decided to insert only those that are verified by the Officers of the several Lodges.
